Next Summer's Looking Bright

The economic doom and gloom has not dampened spirits and with its new Summer 2011 candle ranges, Mosaic Spirit and Flower Explosion, Bolsius is determined to bring colour back into our lives!

Mike Buttery of Bolsius UK explains; "While making big changes to the home is not necessarily possible for many people right now, doing little things can make a huge difference. We know customers like to change the look of their interiors regularly, so what could be simpler and cheaper than to do it with candles?"

Mosaic Spirit, comprising three fragrance filled glasses, taps into the bohemian trend forecast for next year. The design is a modern interpretation of traditional mosaic and ceramic designs. They are available in outer cartons of 6 glasses.

Flower Explosion, picks up on the forthcoming trends for flowers, nature and bright, digitally enhanced imagery. Three fragrance filled glasses bring the outside inside, with photo-prints of bright flowers. They are available in outer cartons of 6 glasses.
